Explanation

Words and figures inclosed in brackets [] are given for information, but do not appear on the title-pages of the publications catalogued. When size is not given, octavo is to be understood. Size of maps is measured from outer edge of border, excluding margin. The dates, including day, month, and year, given with Senate and House documents and reports, are the dates on which they were ordered to be printed. Usually the printing promptly follows the ordering, but various causes sometimes make delays. When Congress and session are not given with the numbers of Senate and House documents and reports, 61st Congress, 2d session, is to be understood.

General Information

The Superintendent of Documents is authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not otherwise provided for. Only one copy can be sold to the same person, excepting Members of Congress, or to libraries or schools.

Documents can not be supplied by this Office free to individuals, nor can they be forwarded in advance of payment.

Documents entered in this catalogue that are for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., are indicated by a star (*) preceding the price named. A dagger (†) indicates that application should be made to the Department, Bureau, or Division issuing the document, a double dagger (‡) indicates that the document is not obtainable, and whenever additional information concerning the method of procuring a document seems necessary it will be found under the name of the Bureau. The Senate and House documents and reports are issued in limited editions and, unless otherwise indicated, may be obtained only through Members of Congress.

In ordering a publication from the Superintendent of Documents give the name of the issuing Department, Bureau, or Division, and title. If publication is numbered give number also. Do not order by Library of Congress card number.

The accumulation of publications in this Office amounts to several millions, of which several hundred thousand are assorted, forming the sales stock. Many rare books are included, but under the law all must be sold "at cost," regardless of their age or scarcity.

In ordering, it should be borne in mind that most of the books have been in stock some time and are apt to be shop-worn. In filling orders, however, the best copy available is sent.

Lists on various subjects will be issued from time to time for free distribution. No general price-list of public documents is at present available, but lists on special subjects will be furnished on application.

MONTHLY CATALOGUE DISTRIBUTION

The Monthly catalogue is sent to each Senator, Representative, Delegate, and officer in Congress, to designated depositories and State and Territorial libraries, to substantially all Government authors, and to as many school, college, and public libraries as the limited edition will supply.

Subscription price to individuals, $1.10 a year, including indexes. Back numbers can not be supplied. Please notify the Superintendent of Documents of any change in address.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS CARDS

Numbers to be used in ordering the L. C. catalogue cards will be found at the end of the titles of the more important monographic documents. The figure following the card number (separated from it by a slanting line) indicates the number of cards required for entries suggested (title entry not included) on the cards. The price of the cards is 2c. for the first card and ½c. for each additional card for the same title ordered at the same time. Remittances should be made to the Librarian of Congress. Cards can not be furnished by the Superintendent of Documents.

CUMULATIVE INDEX

Beginning with July, 1909, the Index to the Monthly catalogue is issued separately each quarter and cumulates for half-yearly periods. That is, the September number of the Index indexes the Monthly catalogue for July, August, and September, the December number is an index to the Monthly catalogue for July to December, the March number is an index to the Monthly catalogue for January to March, and the June number will be the Index for the fiscal year 1910. Persons desiring to bind the catalogue at the end of the year should be careful to retain the numbers received monthly, as duplicate numbers can not be supplied.

HOW TO REMIT

Remittances for the documents marked with a star (*) should be made to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., by postal money order, express order, or New York draft. Currency may be sent at sender's risk.

Postage stamps, foreign money, uncertified checks, defaced or smooth coins will positively not be accepted.

No charge is made for postage on documents forwarded to points in the United States, Guam, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, or to Canada, Cuba, or Mexico. To other countries the regular rate of postage is charged, and remittances must cover such postage.

Notes of General Interest

The final report of the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission is published. The Commissioners were appointed by President McKinley Mar. 9, 1901, and the Commission, after numerous extensions of its term, became extinct May 2, 1910. By the Treaty of Paris, Dec. 1898, the United States and Spain mutually agreed to relinquish all claims for indemnity against each other, individual as well as national, the United States at the same time agreeing to adjudicate and settle the claims of its citizens against Spain. It was for the examination of these claims that the Spanish Treaty Claims Commission was created. During the nine years of its existence it examined 542 claims, involving $64,931,694. It awarded altogether only $1,387,845.

The briefs filed with the late Spanish Treaty Claims Commission have been bound in 23 volumes and sets deposited for preservation in the State Department, the Justice Department, and the Library of Congress. An Index-digest, referring to these sets, has been compiled and published as volume 24, completing the set.

Chapter 30, Report of the Commissioner of Education for 1909, is the annual report on education in Alaska. It has been printed in a pamphlet, which includes also an Appendix not to be found in the bound volumes of the Education report. The reindeer service is also reported upon in this publication, and it is accompanied by a map showing the location of the schools and deer herds, both of which are scattered over a vast territory, ranging from 55 degrees north latitude in the Alexander Archipelago to 71 degrees at Point Barrow. The reindeer experiment is proving successful, and Mr. Updegraff, chief of the Alaska Division, reports that the benefits to the natives by the income derived from the herds "are almost incalculable."

Soils Bureau Bulletin 64 is entitled Fertilizers for corn soils and Bulletin 65 is Fertilizers for potato soils. The first summarizes the results of 6,394 tests made at the agricultural experiment stations and the second summarizes the results of 1,769 such tests. These bulletins are sold at 5c. each.

Bulletin 85 of the Labor Bureau, being the number for Nov. 1909, though only now issued, gives the text of the labor laws enacted during the years 1908 and 1909, and is thus virtually a supplement to the 22d annual report of the Commissioner of Labor, that report being a compilation of the labor laws, both Federal and State, up to the close of the year 1907. Bulletin 85 carries also a review and summary of the new laws and a combined index to the bulletin, the 22d report, and the judicial decisions on labor questions which have been handed down since the publication of the 22d report. Bulletin 85 is priced at 25c.

The proceedings of the 14th annual meeting of the American Association of Farmers' Institute Workers, held at Portland, Oregon, August, 1909, is a publication that must be pleasing to all who feel an interest in the improvement of agriculture because it shows so clearly the zeal of the workers in a good cause. The addresses and discussions turned largely upon ways and means for increasing the attendance of farmers at the institutes and for otherwise bringing the gospel of scientific farming closer home to those who are to profit by it. An interesting incidental point appears in the presidential address of Mr. Ellsworth, a Massachusetts man, concerning wild deer. Though deer are among the most timid and defenseless of animals, and though Massachusetts has been inhabited for nearly three hundred years by civilized man, recognized by all philosophers as the fiercest and most destructive of predatory creatures, yet Mr. Ellsworth says that in his State, under existing protective laws, deer have become so numerous as to be "a serious nuisance" to farmers.

A timely compilation is An Index-digest of decisions under the Federal safety-appliance acts. The first safety-appliance law was enacted in 1893 and amendatory acts were passed in 1896 and 1903. A large number of cases have arisen under these acts and have not been reported separately, but intermingled with other kinds of cases in the 17 published volumes of decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission. This special index and digest has thus become almost a necessity.

The Forest Service has issued a new map of the National forests, showing their location and also the transportation routes by which they are reached and the headquarters of the supervisors to whom requests for information should be addressed.

The new United States Court of Customs Appeals has published its rules, and with them the sections of the new tariff act by which the Court was created.

Bulletin 58, Soils Bureau, Composition of commercial fertilizers, gives valuable information to those interested.

The muskrat is the title of Farmers' bulletin 396. The author, Mr. Lantz, believes that this little animal should be protected because of its fur. Five million of its pelts have been sold in London in a single year, and though in the undressed condition they are cheap, nobody knows in what form of sophistication or at what increase of cost they reach the "ultimate consumer." It is stated that in several cities muskrats are sold for food under the name of "marsh rabbits," and the bulletin gives several recipes for cooking them. Though in many places the muskrat does much harm by burrowing into embankments and by feeding on various crops, yet in many other places, as in large swamps, it multiplies without injury. It is not exclusively a vegetable feeder, though such is the general belief.

A revision of Geological Survey Bulletin 305, Analysis of silicate and carbonate rocks, has been issued as Bulletin 422. Price 25c.

New editions of Farmers' bulletins have been issued as follows: No. 142, Principles of nutrition and nutritive value of food, corrected to April 20, 1910; No. 375, Care of food in the home, corrected to March 25, 1910; No. 391, Economical use of meat in the home, corrected April 5, 1910. These and the other Farmers' bulletins are sold by the Superintendent of Documents at 5 cents a copy.

A 52-page "separate" reprinted from the annual report of the Commissioner of Navigation for 1909 carries the title Ocean-mail systems of ship subsidies of the world. It contains much interesting information and more strenuous argument on a disputed political question than one often finds in a bureau report.

The Reclamation Service has issued a new edition of Hydraulic and excavation tables and is selling it at $1.25 in cloth.

A narrow octavo pamphlet, in green paper, entitled The Panama canal, has been printed in the Canal Zone and received in Washington. Though of but 18 pages, it contains more absolute information about the Canal than almost anything else that has been issued. It has contour and profile maps of the Canal and plans and cross-sections of Culebra and Gatun.

Senate document 486, 61st Congress, 2d session, is a report on the Use of cold storage, the data being supplied by Dr. Wiley, chief of the Chemistry Bureau. It embodies the fruit of the latest researches. Price 5c.

There is a strong popular demand for official Government cook books. There is quite a list of these, the latest addition being the Manual for army bakers, 1910, otherwise known as War Dept. doc. 358. It is a small quarto, bound in fabricoid (imitation leather), and sold by the Superintendent of Documents at 35c.

A 32-page pamphlet from the Geological Survey has this title: Coöperation between the United States and various States in topographic, hydrographic, and geologic work. There has been a great deal of these kinds of coöperation and it has been mutually profitable.

A new scientific bulletin for which a considerable demand sprang up even in advance of its publication is Technical series 18, Entomology Bureau, The anatomy of the honey bee. It is now in stock and can be supplied by the Superintendent of Documents at 20c. a copy.

Senate document 427, 61st Congress, 2d session, is a report by the Commissioner of Labor on Pension funds for municipal employees and railroad pension systems in the United States. Two hundred and nineteen municipal pension systems for teachers, firemen, and policemen in 31 States and 99 cities and 22 railroad pension systems are reported on. The Superintendent of Documents has a limited supply of this document for sale at 10c. a copy. The catalogue entry for this document appeared in the Monthly catalogue for April, 1910, page 585, under the heading Labor Bureau.

The pure food law was enacted to prevent the adulteration of foods and drugs in ways to make them poisonous. Now we have a new law (Public 152, the catalogue entry for which appeared in the Monthly catalogue for April, 1910, page 588, under the subhead Insecticides) to prevent the adulteration of poisons in ways to make them less poisonous. Yet there is no contradiction in these laws. Poisons have their legitimate uses, and the man who buys poison is as much entitled to have good poison as the food-buyer is to have good food. The particular poisons whose integrity is protected by the new law are those which are now so extensively used in spraying fruit trees to free them from insect pests.

Gustavus Vasa Fox is not a familiar name nowadays, but as Capt. G. V. Fox, assistant Secretary of the Navy, it was very well known during the Civil War. Soon after the war Capt. Fox was sent to Russia as bearer to the then Czar, Alexander II, of the congratulations of Congress upon his escape from an attempted assassination. The American envoy was very ceremoniously received in Russia and was the recipient of numerous gifts and testimonials. Some of these were presented to the Smithsonian Institution by Capt. Fox. The remainder have now by bequest of Mrs. Virginia L. W. Fox become the property of the National Museum, and the whole collection is on exhibition as the Gustavus Vasa Fox collection of Russian souvenirs. The Museum has issued a pamphlet describing and illustrating the exhibit. The official designations of this document are: No. 1725, Proceedings U. S. National Museum, vol. 38, pages 1–15, plates 1–8. The catalogue entry for this publication appeared in the Monthly catalogue for April, 1910, page 644, under the heading National Museum.

A FARMERS' LIBRARY

The remarkable series of public documents known as the Farmers' bulletins of the Department of Agriculture has now reached its four hundredth number, no. 400 being entitled A more profitable corn-planting method. It describes the investigations by which it has been determined that the farmer who plants the half dozen kernels of corn which go to a hill in such manner that each one may have a few inches of space to itself instead of the whole being bunched together will considerably increase his yield. It also shows him how he may do it. This is a typical instance of the minuteness of the inquiries by which the Agriculture Department for a score of years past has been aiding the American farmer. Almost every phase of modern farming and stock-raising that is capable of popular treatment has been at some time treated in this series. All of the 11 scientific bureaus of the Department—Animal Industry, Biological Survey, Chemistry, Entomology, Experiment Stations Office,

Forest Service, Plant Industry, Public Roads, Soils, Statistics, and Weather Bureau—have contributed to it, but always in popular style, so that the information given, however scientific it may be, and however extended and abstruse the studies by which it has been obtained, is presented in form to be intelligible to anybody who can read the English language.

The publication of the series began in 1889 with a Bulletin of 16 pages under the title The what and why of agricultural experiment stations. The original intention was to make the distribution of the bulletins free to all applicants at home and abroad and this intention was adhered to for many years, some thousands of copies of each number having been allotted to each Senator and Representative in Congress as a means of facilitating the distribution. As the scope of the series became very extensive and its character widely known the applications for free copies became too numerous for an unlimited free distribution. Though the bulletins have been printed by millions for several years past, and up to the full limit of the Department's appropriation, the editions have not been equal to the demands. The first limitation, as was natural, was put upon the applications from foreign countries. These for some time past have not been filled free. The next limitation was upon schools which apply for large numbers of the same bulletin for class use. There have been many of these, as in several branches the Farmers' bulletins make good textbooks. All applications which the Department feels itself unable to fill on the free basis it turns over to the Superintendent of Documents, who offers the bulletins to applicants at the uniform price of 5c. a copy. The Superintendent of Documents also receives numerous direct orders for Farmers' bulletins. He is authorized to print copies of these and other public documents for sale, and does so, but has no supply for free distribution. His office has no official connection with the Department of Agriculture, but there is a somewhat extensive coöperation between them.

Though the bulletins number only 400, so numerous have been the revised editions and reprints that the separate issues must have numbered nearly or quite a thousand. Of these about 300 are now available for sale. Some of the early numbers have been allowed to drop out of sight because they are no longer abreast of the latest discoveries in agricultural science. Others have been superseded by later numbers on the same subjects embodying more recent or more complete and comprehensive treatment. The 300 or thereabouts still current form an unequalled popular library of agricultural science and practice. The whole may be had for about $15. An index up to no. 382 has been issued also and costs but 5c. The series is well worth binding in permanent form and preserving as a model farmers' library.

A very practical number in the Farmers' bulletin series is 394, The use of windmills in irrigation in the semiarid West.

NUMBERING THE LAWS

The Bureau of Rolls and Library, State Department, which edits for publication the first printed form of the Federal laws, known as the "slip laws", has adopted the method of numbering them in one series throughout a Congress instead of making new series for each session as was formerly done. The Bureau also separates the private from the public acts and resolutions, making four numerical series, namely: Public acts, public resolutions, private acts, private resolutions. This seems a more logical and convenient method than that followed in compiling the Statutes at large, where the slip numbers assigned by the Bureau of Rolls and Library are not retained, but instead the public and private acts taken together are arranged in chronological order and numbered consecutively, the public and private being then separated and bound in different places, the consequence being that both public and private series have broken sets of numbers. This method is repeated at each session. Numbering the "slip laws" consecutively through a whole Congress began with the 60th Congress.

NEW GOVERNMENT ESTABLISHMENTS

The President has signed laws establishing the Glacier National Park, the Bureau of Mines, and the Commission of Fine Arts.

The Park, which will include about 1300 square miles of mountainous territory in northern Montana, right up against the Canadian boundary, is said to contain not only 60 glaciers, but 250 lakes, with unnumbered forests and cataracts, and to be second only to the Yellowstone in picturesqueness.

The Fine Arts Commission is to be composed of seven members, appointed by the President, to serve four years each and until their successors are appointed. The law says that "a permanent commission is hereby created", and the form of tenure provided is no doubt intended to secure permanence not only of the Commission but also of the membership. The function of the Commission is only advisory, but it is required that its advice shall be asked by all officials who are to determine questions relating to public statues, fountains, and monuments in the District of Columbia. The Commission will have a secretary "and such other assistance as the Commission may authorize", which is certainly a liberal provision. The Commissioners themselves receive no salaries, but have their personal expenses paid. Their total expenditure is limited to $10,000 a year. They are required to advise generally upon questions of art when requested to do so by the President or a committee of Congress. If the Commission shall be so fortunate as to have tact as well as artistic training it may accomplish much, for though its powers are only advisory it will have the irresistible force of public opinion behind it in any wise and reasonable recommendations. The average citizen nowadays is fully awake to the value of civic beauty.

The Mines Bureau will belong to the Interior Department and will take over the investigations as to mining heretofore carried on by the Geological Survey. The law virtually detaches from the Survey its Technological Division, and establishes it as a separate bureau, especially assigning to the new bureau the testing of structural materials and fuels and the investigation of mine explosions.

Of course the creation of new Government establishments means the issue of more public documents. From the Glacier Park there will be at least an annual report. If the Fine Arts Commission does not write and print elaborate treatises it will be untrue to tradition and precedent. The Mines Bureau must at the least have a series of bulletins, and may reasonably be expected to improve the possibilities of its wide field by publishing also other series.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS SUBJECT HEADINGS

Heretofore the Library of Congress has sent free to all libraries on its mailing list and to depository libraries the lists of Additions and corrections to its main List of subject headings.

In the future these will not be sent gratis, but will be sold at the usual document rates, chargeable against deposits for printed cards in the Library of Congress. They may also be bought from the Superintendent of Documents. Price five cents or over, according to size. The fifth issue is now ready at five cents per copy.

The Library of Congress has begun to print, primarily for its own use, the main List of subject headings used in its dictionary catalogues, to which the lists above mentioned form the supplement. Headings beginning with the letters A and B are already printed. Sheets for the remaining letters will be printed as fast as practicable. It has been decided to print more copies of these sheets than are needed for the Catalog Division and supply them to subscribers to the cards at the usual document rates, chargeable against deposits for printed cards. The price of the sheets for letter A (64 sheets) is 25c.; for letter B (55 sheets) 20c. These also may be bought from the Superintendent of Documents at the same rates. The complete main list, covering the whole alphabet, will probably be ready for printing in a single volume in about a year.

Before ordering the sheets, libraries are requested to note the fact that this preliminary issue of the List of subject headings is printed "as manuscript", and the Library can not undertake to explain or discuss particular headings or inconsistencies.

It should also be noted that subjects in Literature, Philology, Philosophy and Religion, Military and Naval Science, Law, and Fine Arts are as yet only partially covered, these classes still remaining to be recataloged. Further, names of persons and places, societies, institutions, and bodies of various kinds, treaties, conventions, and the like, scientific names of individual chemical substances, and systematic names of genera and species in Botany and Zoology, are as a rule excluded.

SENATE EXECUTIVE JOURNALS

The fourth order for the publication of the Executive journals of the United States Senate is now in process of execution. In fact, though the order for publication was passed only on April 20, 1910, the work of printing has been going on, under confidential restrictions, for nearly or quite a year past. The first volume released under the new order, and thus far the only one, is vol. 28 of the whole series, and contains the Journals of both sessions of the 52d Congress and the special session of the 53d Congress. The order of April 20 provides for the publication of the Executive journals of the 52d–58th Congresses, Dec. 1891–Mar. 1905.

The Executive journals are, of course, the journals of the executive sessions of the Senate, which are held in secret. These journals are not printed in ordinary course, but only by special order of the Senate. The first order for this purpose was made April 4, 1828, and provided for the publication of the secret journals of the first nineteen Congresses. As a matter of fact the journals of the 20th Congress were also included, and the period of time covered was from May 25, 1789, when the first executive session was held, to Feb. 23, 1829. This issue was in three volumes, printed in Washington by Duff Green, the imprint date in each volume being 1828. The edition was 700 copies.

Fifty-eight years elapsed before another order for printing the Executive journals was passed. Its date was June 28, 1886, and it provided for publishing the journals from the close of the 20th Congress to the close of the 40th Congress, a period of forty years ending Mar. 3, 1869. One hundred copies only were ordered printed, but later the Secretary of the Senate reported that he had taken the liberty of printing 125 copies. The injunction of secrecy was not removed from this print until June 14, 1888, and at the same time a distribution was ordered which took up 107 sets, each of the then 76 Senators getting one, the Senate library five, the House library two, the Library of Congress two, and sundry officials the others, 18 sets only remaining to be held in reserve by the Senate. These facts account for the great difficulties which the representative libraries of the country have found in completing their sets of the Executive journals, especially for the 40 years from 1829 to 1869. The issue for this period, 20th to 40th Congresses, was from the Government Printing Office, imprinted 1887, and in 13 volumes, numbered 4–16, but in 15 books, volumes 14 and 15 being each in two parts.

The Senate next took up the matter of publishing the Executive journals Jan. 21, 1901, and then provided that the journals from Mar. 3, 1869, to the end of the 51st Congress (Mar. 1891), should be printed in an edition of 250 copies. They were so printed at the Government Printing Office, imprinted 1901, filling 11 volumes numbered 17–27.

The fourth issue, now in press, covering the 52d–58th Congresses, 1891–1905, is also of 250 copies, and will fill at least seven volumes, numbered 28–34, and perhaps one or two more. Vol. 28 is generously supplied with indexes, and presumably the other volumes will be equally well treated. The indexes are so numerous that a table of them is supplied. For each of the three sessions are supplied five indexes: Alphabetical, Geographical, Consular and diplomatic, Army, and Navy, making 15 separate alphabets in all, filling 312 pages or 40 per cent of the volume.

Librarians will not fail to note that though the law has provided since Jan. 12, 1895, that copies of all Government publications should be supplied to the depository libraries, no provision to that end has been made in ordering the two issues of the Executive journals published since that date.

SPECIAL AGENTS' SERIES, MANUFACTURES BUREAU

In the Monthly catalogue for April, 1910, page 585, under the heading Manufactures Bureau, is an entry for a report on Machine-tool trade in Austria-Hungary, Denmark, etc., Special agents' series 34. It was the first appearance of this series title and the first publication in the series to have a printed number. The 33 titles preceding had been assigned numbers in the publishing bureau, but they had not been published. In a note appended to the entry for no. 34 in the April Monthly catalogue it was promised that a list of the missing numbers and the titles to which they had been assigned should be given in the May catalogue. It is appended herewith. The list embraces not only the reports on trade conditions issued by the Manufactures Bureau, but also the earlier reports which do not bear the Manufactures Bureau caption but were issued by the Commerce and Labor Department.

Topographic sheets

NOTE.—The Geological Survey is making a topographic map of the United States. The sheets of which it is composed are projected without reference to political divisions, and are designated by some prominent town or natural feature found on them. Three scales are used, 1 : 62,500, 1 : 125,000, and 1 : 250,000. These correspond, approximately, to 1 mile, 2 miles, and 4 miles to 1 linear inch on the map. The size, unless otherwise given, is about 17.5 inches in height by 11.5 to 16 inches in width, exclusive of the margin, the width varying with the latitude. A description of the topographic map is printed on the reverse of each sheet.

More than one-third of the area of the country, excluding outlying possessions, has been mapped, every State being represented. Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and the District of Columbia are completely mapped. Sheets of the regular size are sold by the Survey at 5c. each; but in lots of 100 or more copies, whether of the same sheet or of different sheets, the price is 3c. each. In no case can orders be filled at the wholesale rate unless the sum remitted solely for topographic maps amounts to at least $3.00.

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

NOTE.—In its latest price-list the Smithsonian Institution publishes this note: "The publications of the Smithsonian Institution are: 1, Contributions to knowledge; 2, Miscellaneous collections; 3, Annual reports; 4, Special publications. No sets of these are for sale or distribution, as most of the volumes are out of print. The volumes of Contributions and of Miscellaneous collections are distributed only to public libraries and to learned institutions and societies in this country and abroad. A small edition of the papers in these two series is printed separately for sale or exchange. The Smithsonian reports are regularly distributed by the Institution to libraries throughout the world, and only a limited number of the volumes remains to supply demands from other sources. No general mailing-list of individuals is maintained. The reports can be had by purchase from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. The papers printed in the annual reports are published separately for free distribution. Publications should be ordered by the serial number. Remittance should be made payable to 'Smithsonian Institution.' An application from a library should state the number of volumes in the library and the date of establishment, and have the endorsement of a Member of Congress." The annual reports are the only Smithsonian publications that are regularly issued as public documents. All the others are paid for from the private funds of the Institution.
